Working Learning Acting TOGETHER

Dear Parents

I wish to begin this week's edition of Blaze by thanking parents for participating in the Emergency Telephone Tree practice on Wednesday morning. I appreciate that the practice demands an early start, but we genuinely believe the trees to be a highly reliable means through which to quickly communicate urgent information, especially when it pertains to emergency situations, including Fog Days. The majority of trees operated very efficiently, although a few parents appeared unaware of the planned practice, in spite of several messages from the school that were shared advance. I do encourage all families to please pay close attention to these sorts of efforts to safeguard our community; a little time now has the potential to make a big difference in genuine emergencies. Thank you!

As always it was terrific to see so many parents in school this past Wednesday for the PFO Meeting and to have the opportunity to share just some of the many exciting events and activities that are taking place here at school. In case you were not aware, we have recently taken steps to make these meetings even more accessible to parents, including the provision of AI translation for those not confident with English and live streaming for those unable to make it into school.

I'm pleased to share the news that on Wednesday we were able to provide our Math/Science/STEM teachers with further professional development in the use of the latest cutting-edge teaching and learning technologies, led by Ms. Anurupa Ganguly, an MIT graduate, STEM teacher, and founder and CEO of US company 'Prisms'. Prisms is a new VR learning platform recently adopted by every state in the USA that teaches Math, Science and STEM concepts spatially and intuitively before building up to symbolic notation. Several of our teachers have actually been using Prisms over the past couple of years, with guidance from our Tech Director Mr. Zhai Hao who was one of the very first adopters of the platform, and the first outside of the USA. Ms. Ganguly offered Wednesday's PD free of charge to IST in recognition of our school's growing reputation as a vanguard school in the uptake of XR technologies in our region.

As parents will be well aware that this year, in addition to not increasing fees, the Board of Governors decided to offer a daily IST lunch to all students at no cost. In addition to the obvious financial savings for families, we were hopeful that the guaranteed sales would result in an improvement in the general quality of the food service. Thus far our anecdotal evidence suggests that there has indeed been a significant improvement with students and teachers alike noting an improvement in quality. To add validity to these observations, we will be carrying out a survey of all Grade 3-12 students next week to solicit their individual opinion. All going well, I hope to share some positive survey results next week!

A reminder that one of the key events in our annual calendar, Parent-Teacher Conferences, are scheduled for next Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons. If you have not yet confirmed a meeting time for your children, please be sure to contact your child/ren's homeroom teacher. Parent-Teacher Conferences are an incredibly important part of the home and school partnership, and a wonderful opportunity to learn more about your child/ren's learning and school experience, to set goals for further growth and development, and perhaps to investigate how you may be able to

A reminder that we will be celebrating UN Day at school next Thursday. Please note that our theme for the day is a modification of UN Sustainable Development Goal #16 and IST's 2024-25 Community-wide Goal: Cultivating a climate of reflective inquiry; fostering a culture of peace.

- 11:30-13:30 International Lunch (very generously provided by our wonderful IST parents – thank you!)
- 14:35-15:00 UN Day Photo (if you are in school join us on the grass field behind the gym!)
- 15:15 End of School

UN Day Parent Bus Schedule

Finally, last weekend we were delighted to host 25 student and teacher representatives from ACAMIS schools who travelled to Tianjin to learn about our Literacy Lab and to see how our students are able to independently manage the lab and the peer literacy coaching services that it provides to our students. We are incredibly proud of our students and the work that they do every day in service of their peers ... and for presenting so confidently and articulately to the visiting schools!

I wish you all an enjoyable weekend and I look forward to seeing you at next week's conferences and UN Day celebrations.

Parent's Guide to the PSAT

The PSAT is a vital assessment that prepares students for the SAT and the college admissions process. Understanding its structure can help you effectively support your child. Here's a breakdown of the PSAT's sections and topics:

PSAT Structure

1. Evidence-Based Reading and Writing

This section assesses students' reading comprehension and writing skills through two main components:

- Reading:
  - Literature: Analyzing fiction and poetry.
  - History/Social Studies: Understanding passages related to historical and social contexts.
  - Science: Interpreting scientific texts and data.
- Writing and Language:
  - Grammar and Usage: Identifying and correcting grammatical errors, and improving sentence structure.
  - Rhetorical Skills: Analyzing the effectiveness of arguments and organization in texts.

2. Math

The math section focuses on problem-solving and analytical skills in three key areas:

- Heart of Algebra:
  - Linear equations and inequalities.
  - Systems of equations.
- Problem Solving and Data Analysis:

- Ratios, percentages, and proportional relationships.
- Analyzing and interpreting data from charts and graphs.
- Passport to Advanced Math:
  - Quadratic equations.
  - Functions and their properties.

Who Should Attempt the PSAT:

Grade 8 Students:

- PSAT 8/9: This version is specifically designed for students in grades 8 and 9. It serves as an introduction to the standardized testing experience.

Grade 9 Students:

- PSAT 8/9: Similar to grade 8, students can take this assessment to familiarize themselves with testing formats and expectations.

Grade 10 Students:

- PSAT/NMSQT: This version is crucial for 10th graders as it serves as a practice test for the SAT and also qualifies students for the National Merit Scholarship Program.

Grade 11 Students:

- PSAT/NMSQT: Taking this test is especially important for juniors because it opens up opportunities for scholarships and provides a solid practice experience for the SAT.

Why Students Should Consider the PSAT from Grade 8 Onwards:

1. Early Familiarization:

- Understanding Test Formats: Students become acquainted with the types of questions and testing conditions they will face in future assessments.

2. Skill Assessment:

- Identify Strengths and Weaknesses: The PSAT provides valuable feedback on academic skills, helping students pinpoint areas for improvement early on.

3. Goal Setting:

- Academic Planning: Early testing encourages students to set academic goals and understand the steps needed to prepare for college.

4. Confidence Building:

- Test-Taking Experience: Familiarity with testing reduces anxiety and builds confidence for future standardized tests.

5. Scholarship Opportunities:

- National Merit Qualification: For 10th and 11th graders, performance on the PSAT can lead to scholarship opportunities and recognition.

Taking the PSAT, starting with the PSAT 8/9, helps build foundational skills, familiarize themselves with the testing process, as well as prepare for future academic challenges.

Saturday 12 September – ISCOT HS Boys VB Tournament

We recently hosted the ISCOT Volleyball Tournament, featuring four participating schools: TIS, Wellington, TEDA, and our own IST. The tournament followed a round-robin format, with IST proudly fielding two teams: IST 1 and IST 2.

Team Highlights:

- IST 1 showcased their experience and skill, dominating the tournament with impressive rallies and outstanding teamwork. Their final match against TIS, which turned out to be a showdown between two undefeated teams, was particularly thrilling. Despite TIS's strong defense against IST 1's powerful attacks, IST 1 secured a 2-0 victory, cementing their status as champions.
- IST 2, composed of younger senior players, faced a steep learning curve. Although they did not win any matches, they kept every set close, demonstrating resilience and a willingness to learn. The team recognized the importance of positive communication and teamwork, which are crucial for their growth. Their experience in this tournament will hopefully motivate them to enhance their skills during practice.

Overall Experience:

The tournament was a success, showcasing great matches and evident progress from all teams compared to last year. Coaches now have plenty of insights and "homework" to guide future practices. We look forward to seeing how each team continues to develop and grow in the upcoming season

Monday 23 September – ISCOT HS Girls VB Tournament

Last Saturday, the IST HS girls' volleyball team showcased their talent and teamwork at the ISCOT tournament held at TEDA. Competing against three other schools, the IST girls dominated the round robin matches, defeating Wellington and TEDA 2-0, and edging out TIS 2-1. Their exceptional sportsmanship and collaboration were evident throughout the games.

In the finals against TEDA, the stakes were high in a thrilling match. After winning the first set, the IST girls faced a fierce comeback from TEDA, losing the second set. After dropping fown at the start of the third set, the team rallied together, overcoming a 6-11 deficit through relentless determination and communication. Their hard work paid off as they clinched the match with a nail-biting 18-16 victory, securing the championship title. Congratulations to the IST girls for their remarkable performance and unwavering spirit!

Grade 4 Field Trip to 798 Art District

Our recent field trip to Beijing and the 798 Art District has been an excellent example of our school's monthly Global Citizenship Spotlight - DIVERSITY. 798 was a vibrant celebration of diversity in art and culture. We explored various exhibits that showcased the unique perspectives of different artists, highlighting how art can express a multitude of experiences and ideas. We approached the wide expanse of artstyles through the lense of the UOI central idea: People use different forms of artistic expression to communicate and idea or feeling.

Some of the exhibits that the students explored consisted of the following:

Lawrence Weiner's exhibit encouraged us to explore language and communication, using simple yet powerful text to show how art transcends barriers and connects diverse backgrounds. In YunChul Kim's work, we saw a blend of technology and nature, reflecting how different cultures interact with the environment and enhancing our appreciation of varied perspectives. The Vacation in the Solar System exhibit took us on a journey through space, highlighting the dreams of children from different cultures and reminding us that imagination knows no boundaries. In Wow, Pepe!, we celebrated the playful side of art, where Pepe was cleverly integrated into famous artworks, illustrating the artistic style of appropriation we learned about. This exhibit fostered engagement and highlighted how appropriation can powerfully reinterpret existing works, inviting the students to connect their learning of appropriation to fun and entertaining art in real life!

This overnight trip to Beijing was a significant emotional step for our grade 4 students, as it marked the first time many of them had been away from home. For many, stepping out of their familiar environments and into a vibrant, diverse city was both thrilling and daunting. As they interacted with classmates and navigated new experiences together, they not only learned about different cultures through art but also celebrated their own unique backgrounds. This journey fostered an appreciation for diversity, as students shared their perspectives and traditions, deepening their connections with one another. The trip became a powerful lesson in resilience and understanding, helping them embrace the richness of both their own identities and DIVERSITY of their peers, ultimately strengthening their sense of community and belonging.

Things we've been working on in the Elementary Student Council:

We planned that the first sale of hot chocolate will be on the 1st November and the other thing we planned is that the Fall Festival Fun will also be on the 1st November.
